Public Policy Consultant & Business Development @ Tonomy Foundation | Strategic planning, project management, relationship building

Driving success at the intersection of politics and business with cross-cultural communication and policy expertise

1. With over five years of experience in public policy, I am a passionate and skilled professional who combines strategic planning, project management, and relationship building to drive success for individuals and organizations. I have a master's degree in European and East Asian Governance and a bachelor's degree in International Relations, which have equipped me with a deep understanding of the political, economic, and social dynamics in these regions.

As a Public Policy Consultant & Business Development at Tonomy Foundation, I work with a diverse range of stakeholders to develop and execute strategic plans, identify opportunities for growth and innovation, and build strong partnerships. I am also interested in the impact of politics on people's everyday lives, especially on refugee and humanitarian issues, which I have volunteered for at the Center of Refugees in Trier for four years. My goal is to create a better future for everyone by leveraging my cross-cultural communication and policy research and analysis skills. I am excited to connect with like-minded professionals on LinkedIn and explore new opportunities to make a meaningful impact.
